

a strong Western States showing—can resolve a lot of that uncertainty.

Just trailing Dube in the finish chute was Suzanna Bon, providing further tribute to Firetrails' policy of placing its rookies on a pedestal. In 2003 Bon was third female 50-mile novice in an impressive 8:34. She returned this year to carve nearly a half-hour off that performance, finishing in 8:07:31. These top three women—Fitzpatrick, Dube, and Bon—have vaulted a long way up a very steep learning curve in a very brief time, applying their respective talents, training, and intelligence in equal measure to take their places in the thick of any competitive field they enter. Funny how rookies can so quickly become seasoned veterans.
